0.1 Gradient theorem

In a scalar field, the line integral of the gradient field is the difference between the value of the scalar field at the start and end points.

This generalises the fundamental theorem of calclulus.